

Tuesday, 6 November 2012

Indonesia: Bird flu in Wonogiri

A total of 663 ducks in Hamlet Bakulan, Sonoharjo Village, Wonogiri District, Central Java died last week. The results of the rapid test by Husbandry Department of Fisheries and Marine Resources (Disnakperla), Winton said the ducks was infected with bird flu virus.

<http://www.suaramerdeka.com/v1/index.php/read/news/2012/11/01/134301/663-Itik-di-Wonogiri-Terinfeksi-Flu-Burung>

Indonesia: Sudden deaths of chickens in Cibiuk

Dozens of chickens in Kampung Peundeuy, Cibiuk District, West Java died suddenly within the past 2 weeks.

<http://daerah.sindonews.com/read/2012/10/30/21/684024/puluhan-ayam-di-cibiuk-mati-mendadak>

Indonesia: Ebola virus found in Kalimantan's orangutan

Researchers from Airlangga University's Avian Influenza-zoonosis Research Center in Surabaya, East Java, report that they have detected evidence of Ebola virus in several orangutans in Kalimantan.

<http://www.thejakartapost.com/news/2012/11/02/ebola-virus-found-kalimantan-s-orangutan.html>

India: Mysterious disease kills pigeons in Jharkhand

Pigeons are dying in Ramgarh because of a mysterious disease. More than 200 pigeons have already died in Chattarmandu village of the district in the past few days.

<http://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/city/ranchi/Mystery-disease-kills-pigeons/articleshow/17028844.cms>

India: Pigeons drop dead in Bihar village

More than five hundred pigeons have dropped dead at a village in Bihar's Bhagalpur district over the last four days, causing residents, some of them pigeon-keepers, to fear that something was amiss.

<http://timesofindia.indiatimes.com/city/patna/Over-500-pigeons-drop-dead-in-Bihar-village/articleshow/17109195.cms>

India: Chickens died outside CPDO

At least 11 chickens were found dead under unusual circumstances near the Central Poultry Development Organisation (CPDO) at Hesarghatta near here, raising fears of the spread of the highly pathogenic avian influenza (H5N1) outside the CPDO where the outbreak of the avian flu has been notified by the Union government.

<http://www.thehindu.com/news/cities/bangalore/11-chickens-found-dead-outside-cpdo/article4066465.ece?ref=slideshow>