On behalf of the Local Organising Committee, we would like to invite you to Sydney, Australia, to attend the 5th International Vitamin Conference to be held from 8-10 August 2018 at the beautiful and historical InterContinental Sydney.

It will be an outstanding scientific program that includes oral presentations, lectures and poster sessions. It will feature a number of world-class speakers and bring together hundreds of experts from academia, public health research institutes and the health industry, across the globe.

BE PART OF A WORLD-CLASS SCIENTIFIC PROGRAM

Topics include:

- Role of vitamins in pregnancy and the first 1000 days
- Vitamins for optimal health through all life stages
- Impact of vitamin deficiencies on chronic disease
- Vitamins to promote healthy ageing
- Emerging knowledge on less explored vitamins
- Food vitamin methodology
- Economic impact of inadequacy in the diet, fortification of foods, and use/abuse of supplements.
